

SEADS Spotlight • November 2023

Inclusion for All: Why People with Disability Matter for the ASEAN Digital Economy

Accounting for about 15% of the world's population, people with disability represent enormous economic potential and societal development given meaningful inclusion.

This article is published in collaboration with the Tech for Good Institute.

Read More

Can Southeast Asian Countries Sustainably Continue Their LNG Development?

Investing in downstream LNG infrastructure is not a step back from the region's ambitious climate objectives as long as governments continue adopting clean energy technologies

This article is published in collaboration with the Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia.

Read More

Air Travel in Southeast Asia Is On the Rise But May Face Turbulence Ahead

An ADB study sees airlines recovering 90% of their capacity by the end of 2023, but the path to full recovery will be challenging.

This article was first published by RIMP-FAGA.

Read More

It's Time for NGOs to Embrace Digital Technologies

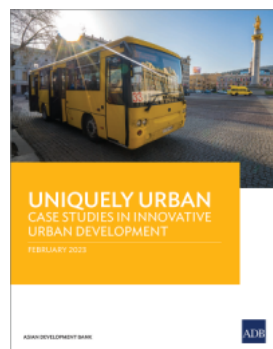

Digital tools and resources can help NGOs dramatically reduce workloads and increase productivity.

This article is published in collaboration with Infoxchange.

Read More

Publications

Uniquely Urban: Case Studies in Innovative Urban Development

This report presents case studies that highlight how ADB designs innovative urban projects across the Asia and Pacific. Download

Malaysia Ageing and Retirement Survey Wave 2 (2021-2022): Survey Report

This report analyzes the health and socioeconomic well-being of older adults and recommends ways Malaysia can provide affordable care for its steadily ageing population. Download

